

Proposal:

I plan to make an infographic based on The College of New Jersey's annual crime reports for 2020-2022. I chose these years because it is the most recently released data and Covid-19 had an interesting effect on the numbers. Specifically, 2021 overall had more crimes than 2022 even though it was during the pandemic and fewer people were on campus. Researching and aggregating information like this exhibits these interesting revelations, so I decided to make an infographic on this data.

I am planning to use a CSS framework, namely Bootstrap, and possibly include SVG elements into the mix. The entire page will be responsive to large and small screens with effective transitions. Due to the abundant information in these reports, I will layer the elements to the best UX practices such as having a clear hierarchy.
